(Associated Press Telegram)
New York, Sept. 20.—James F. J. Archibald, the American correspondent who was intercepted by British authorities while carrying a message from Dr. Constantin T. Dumba, the Austro-Hungarian ambassador, to Vienna, arrived here today on the liner Rotterdam.

Several secret service men boarded the Rotterdam at quarantine early today, immediately went to Archibald's stateroom and questioned him for some time. The secret service men are reported to have searched Archibald, his baggage and the state room, and to have taken away a cane belonging to the correspondent.

Archibald denied this and would not admit having even talked to the secret service men.

After leaving quarantine, Archibald said:

"I do not know anything about the situation here. If there is any contemplated prosecution of me, it is perfectly unjust."

"I took the letter, which caused the trouble from Ambassador Dumba, without knowledge of its contents and entirely unwittingly. That is all I care to say at present."

Archibald then said he would issue a longer statement after landing.

As he walked down the gang-plank, however, he met a man he described as his secretary. The man said he was Charles Mercer. Archibald and Mercer held a short conference, and Archibald then announced he would defer the issuance of a further statement.

DUMBA ENGAGED PASSAGE FOR HIS RETURN TO HOME.

(Associated Press Telegram)
New York, Sept. 20.—It was learned today that Dr. Constantin T. Dumba, the Austro-Hungarian ambassador, whose recall was asked by President Wilson, has reserved passage on the steamer Rotterdam, which sails from this port Tuesday, Sept. 28.

The reservation was made today. The Rotterdam's port of destination is Rotterdam, Holland, whence the ambassador may travel through neutral territory into Germany and thence to Vienna. The Rotterdam will make on this trip her usual call at Falmouth, Eng., but it is assumed that the ambassador has received assurances through the United States (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4.)

First Attack of Germans On Serbian Front is Announced; Part of New Balkan Campaign

(Associated Press Telegram)
Berlin, Sept. 20.—(Via London.)—Announcement was made by the war office here early today of an attack by German forces on the Serbians. It was said the Serbians were driven back.

This is the first official announcement of the presence of Germans on the Serbian front. It has been reported for several weeks that the Germans and Austrians were planning a new campaign in the Balkans with the object of going to the assistance of the Turks.

Such a move would doubtless be directed first at Serbia in an attempt to force a passage through the country to the Bulgarian border. Turkey having made promises of territorial concessions to Bulgaria, it has been reported the latter nation would not oppose the passage of German and Austrian forces to the Serbian frontier. The prediction has been made that this would bring Rumania and Greece into the war. These nations as well as Bulgaria, have called for additional troops recently. After the passage of the Austrian campaign in Serbia there ensued a long period of inactivity but during the last few weeks there has been skirmishing along the Serbian frontier. Premier Pachitch of Serbia was quoted last week as denying reports that the Austrians or Germans had assembled a new army on the Danube front.

(Associated Press Telegram)
San Francisco, Sept. 20.—Construction of a cannon 150 feet long and 16 feet in diameter was begun today at the Panama-Pacific exposition under the supervision of the United Bureau of mines. The big gun is to be used in connection with the celebration of "mining week," which began today and will be used to demonstrate how mine dust explosions occur. The gun will be loaded with coal dust, which will be fired by the explosion of a small calibre cannon inside the big gun.

POSSIBILITY OF CONSCRIPTION STIRS CANADA

(Associated Press Telegram)
Vancouver, B. C., Sept. 20.—The possibility of conscription in Canada probably will be given attention by the Canadian trades union congress which convened here today.

P. M. Draper, secretary of the congress, said that while the question was not on the set program it probably would be considered along with other questions in which labor might be affected by the European war.

Among topics to be taken up were the proposed eight-hour day; workmen's compensation acts in various provinces; fortnightly payment of wages on all railways and proposed amendments to the federal elections act.

THIEVES WAYLAY MESSENGER AND GET $2000 CASH

(Associated Press Telegram)
New York, September 20.—Vincent J. Maloney, a messenger of the Chatham and Phoenix National Bank, was held up and robbed of a satchel containing $2,000 in cash and a number of checks. While one man threatened him with a pistol, another beat him over the head with a blackjack, and then snatched the satchel. Maloney was taken to a hospital seriously injured. The thieves escaped.

AMERICANS HAVE A SLIGHT BRUSH WITH HAITIANS

(Associated Press Telegram)
Washington, Sept. 20.—Rear Admiral Caperton reported today that in a skirmish at Gonaives, Haiti, one native had been wounded. There were no losses among the American troops. The navy department construed the admiral's report as bearing on the same array as was reported in published dispatches as having resulted in the wounding of two American marines and the killing of 16 natives.

NO CARDINALS FROM NATIONS NOW FIGHTING

(Associated Press Telegram)
Rome, September 20.—Because of jealousies that inevitably would be aroused by selecting new cardinals among belligerent nations, and also on account of the difficulties that foreign cardinals would encounter in coming to Rome, the Pope has intended not to hold another consistory until the war is over. But owing to vacancies in the Sacred college, the last new cardinals having been created May 19, 1914, the idea of a consistory is again rumored in vatican circles.

It is being suggested that the pope will not create cardinals belonging to the belligerent countries, but appoint only those living in Rome or neutral countries. In this case, it is said, Archbishop Ireland of the United States may be included.

FINANCIER RECOVERING.
New York, September 20.—Newman Erb, wealthy railroad re-organizer was today reported to have an excellent chance to recover from the effects of the two poison tablets he swallowed by mistake last Tuesday. Mr. Erb, at his summer home at Deal, New Jersey, is now passing through the final hours of the critical period in this form of poisoning.

P. Morgan & Co. This is one who was told by a policeman to "move on."

VILLA EMISSARY ARRIVES TODAY AT WASHINGTON

(Associated Press Telegram)
Washington, September 20.—Enrique Gonzales Garza, provisional executive in Mexico City, during the Villa-Zapata occupation of the capital, arrived here today as an emissary of General Villa. Garza will attempt to show that Carranza, while making his campaign against Villa in the north, has withdrawn large forces from South and Central Mexico and lost control in territory he once held.

Reports were current in official quarters that Villa had indicated he would accept General Obregon, Carranza's commander-in-chief, for provisional president of Mexico. It was reported that Villa representatives had told Obregon recognition probably would be accorded him by the United States if he formed a coalition with the other groups in Mexico. Enrique C. Llorente, Villa agent, pronounced the idea absurd.

Syndicate Will Underwrite Loan; Thousands of Banks Throughout The Country Will Be Asked to Subscribe

(Associated Press Telegram)
New York, September 20.—The largest underwriting syndicate the western world has ever known was in process of formation today to handle proposed "billion dollar" credit loan to Great Britain and France, which has now shrunk, it was reported, to a sum yet to be determined, between $600,000,000 and $800,000,000.

This mammoth syndicate, according to tentative arrangements said to have been agreed upon, will be nationwide in its character, and will comprise national and state banks and trust companies from the Atlantic to the Pacific. A number of so-called Pro-German financiers, it was reported, will join the syndicate if it be agreed that the proceeds of the big loan shall be available only for commodity exports and not for munitions of war.

The price at which this syndicate will put out the British and French government bonds, which will be issued to secure the loan, will be par. The bonds will pay five per cent interest and will be a first mortgage upon the entire British empire and France and her colonies.

All other obligations of the two nations will be subordinated to the proposed big bond issue here. Even the staggering sums raised by bond issue at home, with which the war has been carried on, will come second to the loan to be floated here, when the time comes to pay the principle.

For the first time in history, the English pound sterling has yielded first place in international finance to the American dollar in this respect: The whole big issue of bonds will be payable in American dollars, principle and interest. For generations past, Great Britain's bonds have been payable only in sterling.

The bonds will run five years or ten, it is not yet known which.

In agreeing to have the issue handled by an underwriting syndicate, the Anglo-French financial commission, whose errand here is to establish the loan, apparently has deferred to the views of American financiers, the original intention of the commission having been reported to provide for general conscription to the bonds, without the underwriter as a middleman.

As soon as definite terms of the proposed loan shall have been agreed upon in their entirety, bank and trust companies throughout the country, it is understood will be invited by a general announcement, to become parties to the syndicate of underwriters. It is not yet known how many banks will be asked—possibly as many as care to come in—but it is regarded as certain that the membership of the syndicate will consist of hundreds of institutions and possibly thousands.

These banks will be given a small profit on the transaction, somewhere in the neighborhood of one-half of one per cent, it is believed.

AMERICAN FINANCE

Now Facing Serious Problem as a Result of War.

(Associated Press Telegram)
Denver, Colo., Sept. 20.—The problem of American finance, as affected by the European war, was discussed here today at the opening of the convention of the Investment Bankers' association of America, by A. B. Leach, of New York, president of the association.

"As investment bankers," he said, "we face the problem, that the capital which has been expended for the development of this country, derived in the past from Europe, will not be available. We therefore must devise means to furnish monies for these developments from home capital."

"Again, there will be resold to this country, in enormous volumes—they are coming every day—securities which have been placed in Europe. We could not have them presented to us at a better time. Never before have we been in position where they could be absorbed and repurchased as they have today. The interest and dividend monies which have been going to the other side will be paid to our own people, in a larger measure than before."

"We also face the problem as to what will be the price of money, the return on bonds and stock investments. After the close of the war when the time of readjustment comes, this vast volume of paper which is now being used in Europe to finance the war, will have to be redeemed, and we will get back to a gold basis."

"I have heard it prophesied that at the end of the war, we would face a financial catastrophe, that wreckage and repudiation would be worldwide. I do not believe this. This regeneration work in business, this calling in of credits will be gradual, the nations must face a long period of economy; they must face a long period of high taxation, Europe will not repudiate its indebtedness, Europe will be able to pay, and if we must bear a share of the terrible destruction, I believe that America will come out richer and in a stronger financial and business position than ever before."

From the standpoint of the investment banker and the Investment Bankers' Association of America, the year just closed has been very propitious, according to the report of Secretary Frederick R. Pention, presented to the fourth annual convention of the organization which opened here today. "Owing to the conditions existing in Europe and the resultant effect upon financial conditions in the United States," says the report, "it has been very difficult to make any consistent campaign for new members."

From New York.

(Associated Press Telegram)
Halifax, N. S., Sept. 20.—The Greek steamer Athinai was destroyed by fire at sea, with the loss of one life, according to a message received by the marine department today. The steamer Tuscania rescued 408 passengers and crew and the steamer Roumanian Prince sixty-one others.

The message from the Tuscania was dated at 7 a. m. today, and was the first official word received from the liner, since the wireless report last night, that the Athinai was afire and the Tuscani had rescued the passengers. The origin of the fire was not stated in the message which read:

"Heard distress call at 8:30 a. m. yesterday. Arrived on spot at noon and sent line across to help them. Transferred passengers about 4 p. m. Athinai was abandoned about 8:30 p. m. We rescued 408 passengers and crew and the Roumanian Prince rescued 61. There was only one life lost, that of a man who jumped overboard. We left the wreck burning fiercely in Number 1 and 2 holds, at 10:30 p. m. Position, latitude 40.54 north, longitude 57.47 west."

The Athinai sailed from New York, last Thursday for Greece. She carried 61 first, 47 second cabin, and 213 steerage passengers. The others on board were members of the crew. The cargo consisted of considerable quantities of flour, coffee, cotton, rice and lubricating oil. The Athinai was 6,742 tons gross and had an average speed of 16 knots. The vessel was owned by the National Steam Navigation company, of Greece.

The Athinai sailed from New York last Thursday for the Piraeus, with a few passengers and a heavy cargo of general merchandise.

News of the abandonment of the vessel came in radiograms last night to the marine department from Captain McLean of the Anchor line freighter Tuscania, which responded to the Athinai's wireless call for assistance. Captain McLean's first message said that fire had broken out in the forward hold of the steamer and that he was standing by prepared to convey her to this port. Apparently the spread of the flames was rapid, for a short time afterward another brief message from the Tuscania, relayed through the Cape Race wireless station said the Athinai had been abandoned.

Nothing was said regarding the fate of the passengers and crew of the burned vessel, but marine officials were hopeful that all hands had been transferred safely to the Tuscania, as the weather was fair and sea conditions were believed to be favorable. The Tuscania is bound from Glasgow for New York, but it was thought possible she would bring the shipwrecked men to this port before proceeding to her destination.

(Associated Press Telegram)
London, Sept. 20.—The Russian army, since the fall of Vilna, by the German encircling movement is estimated variously at 250,000 to 500,000 men. The conditions under which the Russians are attempting to extricate themselves, furnish a striking parallel to those which followed the capture of Warsaw. They may precipitate one of the greatest, if not the greatest battle which has been fought on the eastern front.

Although no official confirmation has been received in London from Petrograd this morning of the fall of Vilna, the British press has accepted the German claim readily in view of the situation, that had been developing.

Concern is expressed for the retreating Russian forces. So far as can be judged, Field Marshal von Hindenburg's troops have flung a loop about the Russians over a front of some 200 miles and are not only in their rear, but are menacing seriously the single railway line and the few available wagon roads stretching to the south, as was the case at Warsaw, the number of Russian prisoners left behind with the evacuation of Vilna was not great.

Apparently the only way in which the retreating forces may ameliorate the exceedingly bad situation is by a counter blow.

It is pointed out that von Hindenburg's cavalry has penetrated so deeply into the hostile country as to create a salient open to sudden attack, if the Russians should be able to command reinforcements at the proper time and place, but it is not believed here that his opponents are in a position to deal such a blow effectively.

There is a great deal of speculation as to the German objective. Opinion is divided whether von Hindenburg will seek merely to close his loop, thus capturing the army within the net, or not content with this, will press eastward towards Minsk, and from the west through Slonim, in an effort to reproduce the encircling movement on a more gigantic scale and again try for a decisive victory. Similar tactics attempted after the fall of Warsaw met with failure. The Russians are employing their familiar rear guard tactics, and the hope is expressed in the British press that they will be able to fight their way out with shattering losses.

Next to Warsaw, Vilna is the most important town in western Russia. It is a railway junction of great military importance. It was from Vilna that Napoleon fled in disguise in 1812, during the retreat from Moscow.

Referendum of License Bill Is Officially Announced; Enough Genuine Names

(Associated Press Telegram)
Columbus, Sept. 20.—Official announcement was made at the office of Secretary of State Hildebrand today that there will be a referendum vote on the McDermott liquor license law this fall. There are now on file in the state department, more than enough signatures which have been pronounced valid for the referendum.

The number of names required for a referendum is a few less than 68,000. Up to today, McDermott referendum petitions bearing 70,799 signatures have been returned to the secretary of state. Petitions circulated in Franklin and Hamilton and other counties, which are being examined by the courts because of charges that they contain many irregularities, have not yet been returned to the secretary of state. When they are received they will add, according to estimates about 15,000 names to the list now on file and approved.

From all indications, the prediction of Judge Frank H. Kerr of Steubenville, manager of the referendum, that there would be at least 85,000 of the approximately 90,000 names filed found to be genuine, will be borne out.

The petition for a referendum on the Supreme congressional redistricting bills has not yet received the necessary number of names, but it is believed that these will be supplied when all the county election boards have completed examination of the petitions circulated in that county.

THRILLING

STORIES TOLD BY RETURNING PASSENGERS OF FIGHT BETWEEN AEROPLANES

Which Took Place Over the Heart of London Between German and English Air Craft.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

New York, Sept. 20.—A handful of persons from the millions who saw the first Zeppelin raid over the heart of London, on the night of September 8, reached New York today aboard the steamship Orduna, with thrilling stories of the fight in the sky between the invaders and British aircraft and other details of the damage inflicted which had hitherto been suppressed by the British censor. There were said to be three Zeppelins in the fleet, although those who told the story today had seen but one. They circled over the theatre and hotel district of London, dropping explosive and incendiary bombs. One of the latter it was said destroyed by fire an entire block of warehouses within five minutes walk of St. Paul's church. An explosive bomb ripped through a six-story tenement in the center of the city, shattering the building from top to bottom and killing a dozen or more men, women and children as they slept.

Several bombs, according to the eye-witnesses, fell near three hospitals in a cluster, the central one of which was the Ophthalmic hospital. Full of wounded soldiers. All three buildings were rocked to their foundations and not a pane of glass was left intact. The patients had to be moved into the street, where they lay for hours on their cots, while the damage was repaired.

The roar of guns from the city was punctuated at intervals by the explosions of bombs which fell in Newgate street, not far from St. Paul's cathedral, in Holborn, in Chapside, in Gloomfield street, not far from the Liverpool street station and near the waterfront of the Thames river in that section of the city in which St. Paul's is located.

"The Zeppelin seemed to float lazily above us," said Miss A. S. Tatham, of Sydney, Australia, who was staying at the Victoria Hotel, near Charing Cross.

"It reminded me of nothing so much as a great, fat sausage."

"My wife and I watched the Zeppelin from a balcony of our hotel, the Metropole," (which is near the National Gallery and the Strand), said Alexander McNab of Bridgeport, Conn. "It went directly over the hotel and dropped bombs around us."

There was hardly a space of five seconds during the ten minutes or more that the searchlight beams rested on the raider, eye-witnesses said, that the sky was not lightened by flashes of exploding shells. As the noise of cannonading grew louder, those who had fled at first to cellars gained courage and came out into the streets. They were in almost every stage of undress, and thousands of men, women and children walked the streets, or stood in groups, gazing upward, dressed only in their night clothes.

The bursting shells lighting the sky like meteors, shattered into sudden fire all around the Zeppelin. The spits of flame seemed to be finding their target. Meantime the Zeppelin maneuvered over the Holborn section of London, circling at least twice. The maneuvers ended when a shell burst almost directly under the air craft's bow.

It was unofficially reported approximately forty persons were killed by bombs and two hundred or more wounded. About half of these it was said, were women and children.

The steamship Rotterdam, which also arrived today, brought scores of passengers who witnessed the air raid. They, too, said that they had seen but one Zeppelin, but that it was a sight never to be forgotten. They told of a bus in Cheapside blown to pieces by one of the Zeppelin bombs, virtually obliterating its sixteen passengers.

How the American ambassador, Walter H. Page and his family watched the Zeppelin from the steps of the embassy in Grosvenor Square was told by Frank C. Page, the ambassador's son. The airship was about 8,000 feet up, Mr. Page said, and looked like a silver cigar as it floated in the night sky outlined by the searchlights. The ambassador's son said they were startled by the boom of an explosion and all went to the street.

Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to every suffering woman."—Mrs. HARRY FISHER, 1625 Doughton St., Nicetown, Pa.

Another Woman's Case. Providence, R. I.—"I cannot speak too highly of your Vegetable Compound as it has done wonders for me and I would not be without it. I had a displacement, bearing down, and backache, until I could hardly stand and was threatened with a miscarriage. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helped me and I am in the best of health at present. I work in a factory all day long besides doing my housework so you can see what it has done for me. I give you permission to publish my name and I speak of your Vegetable Compound to many of my friends."—Mrs. ABEL LAWSON, 126 Lippitt St., Providence, R. I.

Danger Signals to Women are what one physician called backache, headache, nervousness, and the blues. In many cases they are symptoms of some female derangement or an inflammatory, ulcerative condition, which may be overcome by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Thousands of American women willingly testify to its virtue.

CARRANZA

SENDS AGENT PRESUMABLY TO SMOOTH OVER THE BORDER TROUBLES

With a View to Strengthening His Claims for Recognition by Congress.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Brownsville, Texas, Sept. 20.—Much significance was attached to the announcement by the Carranza consulate that General Jacinto Trevino, Carranza commander for the department of the northeast of Mexico, was expected to arrive in Matamoros today on a special train from Monterey. It was believed here that he would attempt to smooth over the border trouble in this section in order to strengthen Carranza's standing with the Pan-American conferees.

Last night's reports of shooting heard at various places around Brownsville, proved to be local disturbances seemingly unconnected with the bandit troubles. The only persons hurt were two Mexican girls who were slightly wounded. This shooting was done by an automobile party of Mexicans.

SATURDAY'S MEETING INCREASED VALUE OF CARRANZA CURRENCY.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Washington, Sept. 20.—Advices from Vera Cruz, to the Carranza agency here today, said the meeting of the Pan-American conference in New York Saturday, materially increased the value of Carranza currency. General Carranza and his military leaders were reported much encouraged by the conference's announcement that the time for recognition of a government in Mexico had arrived. General Bulacio Gutierrez, leader of a Mexican faction apart from the Carranza, Villa and Zapata groups and reported to have arrived at Saltillo, and offered his services to General Obregon, Carranza's military leader.

Sandwiches are said to have been invented by the fourth Earl of Sandwich, who was so much addicted to gambling that he would rarely quit play for dinner.

EXPLORER

RETURNS FROM ALASKA TO NEWARK FOR VISIT WITH FATHER J. S. FULTON

During Trip He Succeeded in Partially Ascending Volcanic Mountain and Got Pictures.

B. E. Fulton, son of John S. Fulton of West Newark, a graduate of Ohio State University, has returned from a trip to Alaska with Prof. Robert F. Griggs of the university faculty. In which they made an exploration of the Katmai district for the National Geographic Society. In speaking of Prof. Griggs' trip, The Sunday Dispatch says:

"His party succeeded in reaching and in partially ascending Mt. Katmai which had never been visited since the destructive eruption of 1912 that buried the country, even 100 miles away, under a foot of volcanic ash. "Mt. Katmai itself was quiet this summer but several neighboring volcanoes were active. He was successful in securing a set of pictures of Mt. Katmai which had never before been photographed and of the other volcanoes of the district. The party was very fortunate in the time selected for the expedition, as it happened to land just as a great flood, which devastated the whole region, was subsiding. "The eruption was so violent that it killed the forest many miles away from the volcano. In the vicinity of Kodiak, however, native hay as high as a man's head has come up through the ash and is more luxuriant and better than ever before the eruption."

"Professor Griggs took as his assistant B. E. Fulton of the class of 1912 of the university. "Mr. Fulton is now visiting at his father's home but will leave in a few weeks for Chicago where he will continue his studies in entomology and biology at Chicago University."

FOOTBALLERS OF "BIG NINE" START ACTIVE PRACTICE

Chicago, September 29.—Active work began in the football camps of the "Big Nine" universities today. It was the official opening of the practice season throughout the Western Inter-collegiate conference.

Hardened by weeks of preliminary training, the candidates for the eleven were ready to settle down to the grind of scrimmage work. The coaches, despite the expected hot weather plan to send their charges through the hardest kind of work from the start, as first games of the season are to be played on October 2.—less than two weeks away. As a defeat by any member of the "Big Nine" by any other eleven of the conference throws the beaten team out of the championship race, coaches will strive to place as well-trained teams as possible for the contests.

Games to be played on October 2 will mark the close of the preliminary season, as the "Big Nine" teams will go into action against non-conference eleven. Chicago, however will start its season without the experience of a single game, meeting Northwestern on October 9. Reports indicate that unusually large squads will turn out in all camps.

A. A. SEASON IS DISASTROUS FOR COLUMBUS CLUB

Columbus, Ohio, September 29.—The American Association season closed with the games played Sunday giving the pennant to Minneapolis with a percentage of .597. St. Paul was a close rival, only a game and a half between the clubs. The championship was not decided until Saturday.

It is admitted that the season just closed has been the most disastrous for the Senators of any since the Association was organized. The Columbus club is said to have lost percentage financially and as for the percentage column, no Columbus team has ever made such a poor showing.

WILSON TEAM DID NOT SHOW UP FOR SUNDAY CONTEST

The Independents will practice again Thursday and will play again Saturday at 7 o'clock.

DOGS LINGER BUT SHORT TIME AT POLICE STATION

The police department has acquired another dog, making the third canine to be taken up by officers on duty at headquarters since the establishment of the center of police activities in the present building.

The new dog is a white bull terrier and is somewhat of an aristocrat. His father is a highly bred dog owned by N. C. Sherburn. He took up his abode at the police station yesterday but it would be saying too much to say it is his permanent place of residence.

The police officers have had poor luck in making pets of dogs. Two have preceded the present animal and both met death at the muzzle of a shot gun, because of vicious propensities developed by the animals. The first dog might have been a twin brother of the present guest at headquarters. He was a white bull terrier but possessed of little sense. He was a gift from a newspaper man who tired of trying to train the pup and turned him over to the officers under false pretenses.

This was back in 1906 when the station was first occupied. The pup was unable to keep away from the feet of the patrol horses and finally was injured by one of the horses and his ownership changed back to the scribe who found another home for him. Before he was a year old he had become so vicious that his owner found it necessary to kill him, to prevent the dog from devouring his children. His associations with the police and newspaper fraternity are said to have had nothing to do with his temper.

The next mascot of the bluecoats was just a dog. Some of his antecedents were of the brindle bull breed and this animal bore the markings of the breed. He was nearly grown when he first camped at headquarters and found a home.

He caused the drivers considerable trouble by running in front of the team and barking. He also had a picturesque habit of seizing a stick or club, no matter what size, while running ahead of the horses. Often-times, he annoyed pedestrians, as he ran through the sidewalk with a large stick in his teeth. He finally became such an annoyance that he was sent to a new home and later developed such a temper that his execution was ordered as a "safety first" measure.

Now the third animal has come to make his home at headquarters. While no betting is permitted among the police it is probable that wagers will be laid as to the probable end of the new dog. His death under the wheels of the new police patrol, when it arrives, right now is the favorite with the officers.

Ready-Made Clothing.

The New York Times printed a little article the other day on the development of ready-to-wear clothing. It told of the great changes in that trade during recent years. The difference, as one man puts it, is trying to fit every man that comes into the store, instead of merely trying to fit the average man.

It is fortunate for the average man's purse, that ready-made clothing has shown so much improvement. In primitive times the clothing was cut and made up in each individual home. Later there was a period when women with some experience as tailors turned out clothes for a whole village. Their rates were low and the clothing wore well, even if it fitted poorly. More particular people of course patronized higher class establishments.

Today tailors pay high wages, and in the larger cities much more comfortable workshops have to be provided. The custom maker who ten years ago was charging $35 for a suit of men's clothes, usually has to ask $45 for it today.

Meanwhile ready-made clothing has made no great advance in price. The makers pay more for labor, but by running larger shops they keep the costs fairly well down. The majority of hard working people have to forego the glove fit of a finely tailored suit, as a too costly luxury. The disposition of the ready-to-wear trade to meet the needs of slim and stout and tall and short men enables nearly every one to find something that comes pretty close to his needs.

Much the same conditions prevail in women's clothing. The cost of custom made dresses grows every year. Fashionable dressmakers, with a style and a gift at fitting the individual figure, command almost any price they may ask. The average woman looks more and more to the ready-made shop. Her vanity is not quite so well satisfied, but she has a lot of money left for other needs.

After making fun of their wives for subservience to styles, most men will wear hot and sweaty felt hats around on warm days merely because some one rang the bell in New York.

After reading on 176 different dates that a general advance is now about to begin on the allies' western front, some people still have the faith to believe it.

The man who shows the biggest pumpkin at the county fair is not usually the same one whose father told him all there was to know about agriculture.

The first duty of the day's work to many business men just now is to note carefully how the league leaders stand and how yesterday's games were won.

There is no special demand that the ship carrying Ambassador Dumba home should take any unusual and unnecessary precautions about submarines.

The success of the Anglo-French financial commission again suggests that it is much easier to borrow a billion in Wall street than $250.

This is a hard working time for the women, who are more than busy attending to the duty of visiting the fashion and millinery openings.

If the school children did not cut up a little now and then, they would not have the satisfaction of seeing the teacher get thoroughly mad.

It is surprising what excellent jokes can be made at the expense of the Ford car when a fellow can't afford to buy one.

A High Price for Peace.

(Philadelphia Record.)

We are indebted to Henry Ford for a sentence that explains precisely what peace may cost any people that is determined to have it at any price. He says: "I am still determined to continue my efforts to bring about peace, and I am still opposed to an increase in our army and navy. If Belgium had not been prepared for war she would not have had her nose punched."

Now we know precisely what the peace propagandists are after. They would dispense with the army and navy, prevent all preparations for war, and allow any nation that wanted us to take us. If we will allow ourselves to be walked over or appropriated, we can always avoid war, just as China recently avoided war with Japan. It is not by surrendering everything to the armed bullies, it is not by yielding unresistingly to tyrants, that the world has progressed, and it doesn't look as if there was very much in the Henry Ford program except for the "strong arm" men and nations, whom we should like to see him convert, but upon whom he can make no impression whatever.

Political liberty means nothing to Henry Ford. National independence means nothing to him. He is willing to give up both and everything else for peace. He can manufacture automobiles under a foreign government as under one of his own countrymen, and, therefore, he would disarm the nation and preserve undisturbed the giving up every thing demanded of it.

But the principles of domestic peace and international peace are identical. If we must not have an army we ought not to have a police force. If no resistance should be offered to predatory nations, none should be offered to predatory individuals. Detroit should dispense with its police force, and if anybody is big enough to get Mr. Ford's factory away from him he should be left free to do it.

No one will attempt to teach Mr. Ford anything about marketing automobiles, but on some other subjects it is evident that his opinions are worth no more than those of a man who can't earn $20 a week. Nothing could show less knowledge of the subject than his remark about Belgium. That country had no choice whether her nose should be punched or not. All the choice she had was regarding the nation by which it was to be punched. If she had opened her frontiers to the German armies, on their way to France, she would have made herself an ally of Germany, and France would have punched her nose. Unprepared for war, Belgium would have belonged to the first nation that chose to take her, and precisely the same is true of the United States.

Facts About the Stork.

(Chicago Journal.)

When a new baby comes to a family in this country it is customary to say, as in Holland, "the stork has arrived," though as a matter of fact we have no true stork. We have the jib, which belongs to the stork family. This bird, which breeds in the far southern states, often comes as far north as Indiana, for it is a bird of long and easy flight, standing 30 to 31 inches high, with about 38 inches in its length of body. Its plumage is white, but wings and tail are black. It is considered a bird of gentleness and good nature, associating with ducks and geese and other water fowl on pleasant terms. The white stork of Europe migrates to Africa in winter. It comes and goes in great flocks, returning year after year to occupy its old nests in Belgium, Holland, Denmark, Germany and other parts of Central Europe, where the birds are welcomed and protected on account of their value as scavengers. The war in Belgium has destroyed many of their old nesting places on house chimneys and cathedrals. The common name for the stork in Holland means "the bringer of good," and in that country as well as in Denmark the people believe that good luck will attend the house on which the stork has built its nest.

TAKE A LOOK

If You Have Time

Contrary to general opinion, the West entertains no prejudice against the silk hat. Such odium as the West has cast upon this accessory to polite dress was the result of failure to stage it properly.

Suggestion to men: If you tell a vulgar story, do not make it worse by attributing the story to Abraham Lincoln.

We have noticed that a good deal of the life insurance is invested in second husbands.

The silk hat falls too often into the hands of those who are strangers to the art of scenic investiture.

Buck Kilby says if he is ever crushed to death it will not be by a mob formed for the purpose of shaking the hand of a great man.

A woman often looks as well as the display in a shop window. But a man never does.

Still, Luther Simlick, whose wooted cost him a thousand dollars, got off easier than most. The girl finally refused to marry him.

In vaudeville nearly all of the monologists are men. In private life nearly all of the monologists are women.

After she is engaged, a girl can see but one man. But, thank goodness, a man's sight is good as long as he lives.

Most of the mysterious things are fairly easy of explanation, but the little man's desire to dance with large women has never been cleared up.

Before and After Taking

When I would Matilda I used to admire the cute little way that she had. Why, even to see her eat soup would inspire me. A hard to pen rhymus just as bad as this. But it is not my purpose to write a poem that will live when I'm gone. I merely remark, though I know that it's trite. Matilda had "ways all her own."

But now that we're married, there's been a slight change. Though I love her the same as of yore. I cannot enthuse, though you may think it strange. O'er the ways that bewitched me before. She still eats her soup in the selfsame old style. And I'm passive. But here let me say. Though her cute mannerisms no longer beguile. Matilda now has her own way.

—Philadelphia Ledger.

Spirit of the Press

Sometimes Too Late.

Berlin now discovers that the attack on the Orduna was a mistake. It is beginning to appear that the orders issued to the U-bat captains are: "When in doubt shoot and find out later whether you're right, or wrong."—New York Evening Sun.

Carranza's Polite Answer.

General Carranza's answer was polite, at least, and his counter-proposal for a conference on the international aspects of the Mexican situation seems to be promising enough to be given serious attention. Since the Pan-American note was sent General Carranza has been spurred to great exertions to overcome the Mexican opposition to him, and it is undeniable that his efforts have resulted in a considerable change in the military situation. Such a change must now be taken into account.—Springfield Republican.

Finance and War.

The effort of the allies to get a loan in the United States is likely to prove a success, except that the amount asked for, $1,000,000,000, is to be limited to $600,000,000. What is very interesting about this loan is that the German-American in banks propose to use their funds in that direction, too. This is a little astonishing in view of the threats of the hyphenated citizenship. But it is business under the direction of a syndicate in which the so-called pro-German houses are deeply interested. One might regard such a loan as a very precarious, especially as the security consists mainly of promises. No doubt, in this financial transaction, enters a feeling that the allies are to win, for if they don't that $600,000,000 will go up in smoke. There is one consolation about the transaction and that is, that nearly all that $600,000,000 will soon find its way back to America and into the pockets of labor.—Ohio State Journal.

Governmental Methods.

It is absurd to place the conduct of a large corporation in the hands of a few men whose selection for the work is determined by the number of friends they have. Yet this is the method by which American local government is supplied with executive officials. Popular government, as applied to the economic transaction of public business, has proved to be a farce, and its penalties are apparent in the huge burdens of maintenance that it places upon the people who have by industry and economy acquired property interests. Our systems of doing public business are cumbersome, expensive and wasteful. What is everybody's business is nobody's business. The public grumbles and pays its annual bill, hoping helplessly for relief, and seldom getting any.—Seattle Post Intelligencer.

Pointed Observations

Governor Major is going to call a special session of the Missouri legislature. We do not know the reason why, but evidently there is some money in the Missouri treasury.—Houston Post.

We greatly admire that poem which so magnificently exclaims, "God give us men!" Sure, we need the men, but, oh, Lord, send along some real women. They are needed no less.—Houston Post.

The feelings of a man who lends a $3,000 auto to a friend who lets it get smashed to smithereens in a collision are of the things unspeakable. Especially when the borrower is financially unable to "make good."—Pittsburg Dispatch.

According to a mycological expert, the colorings of mushrooms are exceedingly varied, including possibly the subsequent beautiful blue of the victim who gets a toaststool by mistake.—Washington Post.

Addington Bruce says men are not naturally lazy. Then what artificial condition or influence is it that makes us long for a sharp knife, a piece of white pine and a nice seat in the shade?—Houston Post.

Another evidence that woman is really much braver than man is the way she can keep from scratching a mosquito bite on or near her ankle in mixed company.—Ohio State Journal.

Henry Ford says he would rather die a pauper than to make cannon. Willing to "jolt the life out of the human race," but not willing actually to kill a single human being?—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Rude Girl.

"I'm not going to that female barber shop again. There's a rude girl there, don't you know?"

"What did she say?"

"Why, she looked at my mustawsh and asked me if I would have it sponged off or rubbed in."

EDUCATIONAL.

Once more the mills of learning grind, and fill with grist the youthful mind. The boys and girls have come from play, to store a lot of facts away in pigeon-holes behind their ears, where they'll be found in future years. All the teachers teach the freckled boy, the female peach, expounding here the A B C, explaining there the rule of three. It is the noblest work of all performed on this old mundane ball, this showing kids the path that leads to mighty thoughts and noble deeds. We all know that, and so we pay the teacher seven bits a day. We're free with coin to statesmen chaps who hold down divers kinds of snaps; we hand them all the wealth they want, and pay their mileage when they jaunt, and all they give in return is eloquence and wind to burn. But hand out decent, living pay to country teachers? Aw, go 'way! It is the custom of the land to sweat and starve that useful band!

The Acme of Manners.

(Milwaukee Journal.)

"Manners," someone says, "are the outside symptoms of good morals. For good morals rise from consideration for others; they are the testimony to our recognition of the principle that no man liveth to himself."

So little a thing as not interrupting a person is our acceptance of every one's right to that same privilege we challenge for ourselves of being heard. A green youth, overcome by his own sapience, making himself heard loudly and listening little, is set down not merely as deficient in training and etiquette, but as lacking in common sense. And anyone "whom the music of his own vain tongue doth ravish like enchanting harmony" exhibits a rare poor training of things. Mayhap it doesn't seem closely allied to morality that a man rises when a lady enters the room, but it is. Among savages they don't do that sort of thing; force alone compels respect. The homage of civilized man to other qualities is the reflection of his truer sense of values.

The other day we saw a young girl, 17 or 18, perhaps, listening quietly and attentively while her father told a story she had heard often. One sees so much of inattention and smirking deprecation of father's or mother's hobbies that it was a pleasant thing. We credit that little lady with far more than mere good training, with the right kind of heart. For truly good manners mean more than technique; they bespeak the true man and the true woman, too.

Getting Tiresome.

Toward the end of the ride," she was reading aloud, "they came to a ford."

"Oh, skip that!" he exclaimed, impatiently. "I'm getting tired of those automobile jokes."—Buffalo, Courier.

KELLEY-WEBB.

Great feathery chrysanthemums in yellow, and the color effect of yellow were used in all the arrangements of the wedding of Miss Charlotte Thurston Webb, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Franklin Webb, of Granville street, Newark, and Mr. Robert Kelley, Jr., of Superior, Wis., which was solemnized on Saturday evening at 7 o'clock in the Trinity church.

The church was arranged with standards filled with yellow chrysanthemums and ropes of smilax were used with the flowers on the altar, while the church proper was arranged with festoons of the southern smilax. Rev. Lewis P. Franklin, rector of the church, read the marriage service and the bridal party procession was to the Lohengrin wedding march played by Mr. Frank Reynolds. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a gown of white chiffon tulle, with full short skirt, the waist being fashioned into a bodice. The only trimming was of orchids, which caught the little puffs of silk. The court train was fastened at the shoulders. Over this fell the soft folds of the wedding veil which was of net with the cap arrangement of net and orchids. The bridal bouquet was of orchids and roses.

The five bridesmaids, Miss Hildegarde Ware of Chicago, Miss Helen Sheridan of Chicago, Miss Frances Hooper of Chicago, Miss Catherine McClellister of Boston, and Miss Margaret Ashley of Toledo, all wore frocks of yellow-taffeta, with yellow footwear. The skirts were extremely full and the quaint little bodices were caught with lace. All wore brilliant studded forehead bands with bows of yellow tulle, and their bouquets were sheaths of yellow chrysanthemums and swainsonia. The maid of honor was Miss Mary Sherwood Wright of Newark, who was gowned in pink chiffon tulle of the same style as worn by the maids and carried a cluster of pink lilies.

Mr. Kelley's best man was his brother, Major William Kelley of Washington, D. C., and the ushers were Frank Webb, Max Norpell, Frederick Wright, Jr., and Ewing Thurston Webb of Newark, Griswald Smith of Castleton, Vt., William Belknap of Louisville, Ky. cousin of the bridegroom, Paul Prentice, also a cousin, of Chicago, and William Tytus of Middletown, O., a cousin of the bride.

At 7:30 o'clock, immediately following the church services a wedding reception was given in Assembly Hall, which was prettily arranged with clusters of ferns and palm trees, and yellow chrysanthemums. The wedding dinner was served in the balcony, the color scheme of yellow again predominating. Parker's orchestra of Columbus furnished the musical program.

A dancing party followed the reception. In the receiving line were the parents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. William Franklin Webb, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kelley, Jr., of Superior, Wis., and the members of the bridal party.

The bride was graduated from the Newark High school, with the class of 1908, and from Smith College, Northampton, Mass., in 1914. She has spent several years in Berlin and Paris in the study of languages and the classics.

Mr. Kelley is extensively engaged in the lumber business in the northwest with headquarters in Superior, Wis. He was graduated from Yale with the class of '96. Their at home cards read for Superior.

The out of town guests at the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kelley and daughter, Miss Eleanor, of Superior; Mr. and Mrs. Griswald Smith of Castleton, Vt.; Thomas Simmons of Burlington, N. J.; Mrs. J. M. Kennedy of Superior; Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Kinney of Cincinnati; Mr. and Mrs. Julian B. Koehler of Cincinnati; Miss Hildegarde Ware of Chicago; Miss Catherine McClellister of Boston; Miss Helen Sheridan of Chicago; Miss Frances Hooper of Chicago; Miss Margaret Ashley of Toledo; William Belknap of Louisville, Ky.; Paul Prentice of Chicago.

Wooster, Ohio.—"I am very well pleased with 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I had throat and lung trouble. Six bottles of 'Golden Medical Discovery' cured me so that I had no return for a long time. This was when we lived near Canton in Stark Co., Ohio. We are never without Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. We keep them in the house and use them for biliousness as they are needed. As our experience with these remedies covers over seventeen years, it ought to have weight as a recommendation."—Mrs. J. H. CHRISTINE, South Grant Street, Wooster, Ohio.

The best time to cure a cough is when it starts. Ordinarily, a few doses of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will cure a cough at the beginning. But even when the cough is deep-seated and the body is wasted by emaciation, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will in most cases effect a permanent cure.

PATASKALA TO HAVE FINE NEW CITY BUILDING

(Special to The Advocate) Pataskalo, O., Sept. 20.—The special election for a bond issue of $20,000, to build a new city hall, which occurred Saturday, carried by a majority of three votes.

The election was quite spirited, 155 votes being cast, 113 favoring the proposition and 42 opposing it. One vote was not counted. As it takes a two thirds vote of all votes cast, the majority is three votes.

The citizens favoring the new town hall are quite jubilant and propose holding a celebration over the victory in the very near future. This enterprising little town will soon boast of as fine a city hall as they have in cities of a dozen times its size. Work on the building will be begun just as soon as the bonds are advertised and disposed of.

Granville

(Special to Advocate.)

Granville, Sept. 20.—The Baptist church was crowded yesterday with students and townspeople assembled for the first regular service of the school year. The pastor, Rev. Millard Brelsford, delivered one of his finest sermons on the topic, "The Closed Door and the Open Life," and the chorus choir was present to the last member with Miss Leila C. Brown as chorister and organist, Mrs. Theodore Johnson and the choir sang "Oh for a Closer Walk With God," and Miss Brooks sang the offertory solo. For the evening service Mrs. Johnson and Miss Brooks sang a duet for the offertory.

In connection with the effort of the Ohio Baptist convention to raise the debt resting on it before October 1, appeal was made from the convention office to members of the Granville church for contributions on condition that a total of $100 be raised within the church. Announcement is now made from the office that they have received a total of $107.50 in cash and pledges, and the few remaining unpaid pledges are now due. This is another illustration of the noble way the Granville church responds to calls in the work of the kingdom.—Baptist Church Bulletin.

Mrs. Arabella Guy Tight has issued invitations to the marriage of her daughter, Minnie Guy Tight, to Mr. William Walter Holt, which is to be solemnized on the evening of Friday, October 1 at 8 o'clock in the Baptist church in Granville. The Tights are an old Granville family with many strong ties binding them to this place, and it is the wish of the prospective bride that this most sacred rite should be performed in the church where she started her Christian life and in which she was baptized. The reception immediately following the ceremony will be held in the church parlors, which are beautifully adapted for such functions.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kirkendall, Mrs. J. W. Kirkendall and daughter, Miss Luella, of Columbus, motored to Granville Sunday and were dinner guests of Mrs. Harriett Baker and daughter, Miss Clara Baker, at their home in West Broadway.

WILLIS NAMES AS FIRE PREVENTION DAY, OCTOBER 9TH

Columbus, Sept. 20.—Gov. Willis issued a proclamation today, designating Saturday, October 9, as Fire Prevention day. He recommended that the teachers in the public schools instruct pupils in the meaning of the day and suggested that school superintendents order fire drill instruction in the schools. He also urged that all places where fire is started be inspected, that fire drills be held in factories, state institutions and college dormitories and that rubbish be removed from streets and alleys by municipalities without cost to residents. The proclamation points out that all these things should be done to render effective the movement to cut down the enormous loss of life and property from fire which occurs throughout the land each year.

THIS ISN'T FOR FAT PEOPLE ONLY

Those of Subnormal Weight Also May Gain by Proper Exercise and Relaxation.

We are given in today's article, the sixteenth in the series written for the Advocate's development course by Anna Louise Shafer, an exercise which would seem to answer all of the requirements of muscular activity for rules of action and reaction. This should prove very resultful.

No. 1 illustrates a reducing exercise of perfect muscular tension. No. 2 illustrates a relaxation exercise which in the downward and upward sway of the torso acts most beneficially upon the spinal nerves. Posed by Miss Grace Gibson.

By Anna Louise Shafer.

If you want a good reducing exercise, one that brings every muscle in the body, particularly the abdominal and waist muscles, into tense, vibrating activity, practice the exercise illustrated by pose number 1. The greater the amount of tension, and the greater the rapidity with which movement is made, the greater the combustion of the stored fuel; hence reduction in body weight. Activity contracts the muscle, producing heat. This contraction of the muscles also dilates the blood-vessels so that the blood in greater quantities and with more rapidity passes through the muscles, and combustion is going on through the entire body, eating up fuel, and liberating force and energy.

The more perfect the oppositions, the greater the muscular tension, so we give an exercise in perfect oppositions, which may be taken as rapidly as desired, concentrating in one's exercise the maximum of results—reduction of weight through combustion and muscular control in oppositions.

It must not be assumed that only the over-fat people need muscular exercise. Subnormal weight may be due to poor assimilation, poor circulation, resulting in underfed tissue. So that while proper muscular exercise reduces unnecessary fat, it at the same time liberates energy, and brings renewed life to tissue, resulting in normal weight.

One of the great benefits of rapid muscular exercise is that it increases the demand for oxygen, and deep breathing is stimulated. Oxygen must be there to assist in the combustion.

This we have learned in lessons on breathing.

Pose number 2 shows how to completely relax the muscles of the neck, torso and arms, retaining tension in the leg and abdominal muscles. You must learn how to "relax" in order that you may learn how to "tense the muscles." Also that you may learn how to secure perfect rest after perfect effort.

Lesson XVI.

1. Taking the basic balance position, completely empty the lungs with a strong blowing sound through the teeth, releasing all of the used air from the lungs. Now take the packing breath up to six (6) counts, more if you can, until the lungs are fully expanded.

Slide the right foot forward, right oblique, transferring weight to the ball of right foot, and, bending right knee strongly, throw right arm back, and left arm up and forward, with strong tension and clenched fist, tensing every muscle in the body. Hold this position of legs, and throw right arm up and left arm back in rapid movement ten times. Return to basic, change weight and repeat on left side, ten times.

2. Return to basic, dropping head on chest, permit torso and arms to be dragged down perfectly relaxed. Hold for five (5) counts. Let motion begin at waist and sway up through torso and neck until head is poised. Repeat.

Your Boys and Girls

A good game for children, kept indoors on a rainy day, is the eggshell race. To play this game two empty eggshells and a couple of strips of white tape are required. There is also a little fan which is of use in the game. Mark out two goals by pinning down the piece of tape at opposite sides of the room, leaving plenty of space behind each for a child to crouch down at the outset of the race.

Place an empty eggshell in the center of each line of tape and choose a boy and girl to play against each other. Give the girl the fan and place her behind the barrier with directions to fan her egg over the barrier and across her opponent's boundary as quickly as possible. The boy player meanwhile has to rely on his lungs to make his egg travel, and the player whose egg first crosses the tape of the enemy wins the game.

As a rule, indigestion in the nursing mother is caused by such foods as heavy puddings or underdone pastry, doughnuts, fried foods soaked in fats, made dishes such as croquettes or fritters, pickles, mincemeat, baked beans, pork and cabbage, and other heavy or poorly cooked foods. But people differ greatly in their power of digestion, and what will suit one person may upset the next. Overeating may also be a cause of indigestion.

A mixed diet of such digestible and nutritious foods as are readily available, is desirable for the nursing mother. All foods are milk making foods. The foods selected will differ widely according to circumstances, but will usually include vegetables, ripe fruits, meats, poultry and fish, with oysters and the like, eggs, milk, cereals, farinaceous foods of all kinds, breads especially graham, whole wheat, corn meal, bran and simple desserts.

"Sweating coals" is the practice of shaking gold coins in a bag until some part of the metal is worn off. In this way a considerable amount of gold dust can be collected.

The Greeks held that the red rose derived its color from the blood of Venus when she trod on a thorn of the white rose while going to the assistance of the dying Adonis.

King George of England has his hair cut once a fortnight.

AIDS TO DIGESTION

Whatever improves bodily conditions a general aids digestion.

Cheerfulness, exercise, fresh air, baths and good habits make your digestion better able to take care of any burdens you impose upon it. But the greatest aid to good digestion is good blood. Anemia, or thin blood, is a common cause of indigestion. Normal action of the stomach is impossible without healthy, well-oxygenated blood.

Dyspepsia which does not yield to ordinary treatment may be quickly corrected when the blood is enriched. Many people have secured relief from chronic forms of indigestion by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills which make the blood rich and red, capable of carrying an increased amount of oxygen, the great supporter of human life.

Have you ever seriously considered giving Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a trial to tone up your digestion, increase your vitality and make life better worth living? If your blood is thin and your digestion weak you certainly need them. Send for a diet book. It is free and will help you decide.

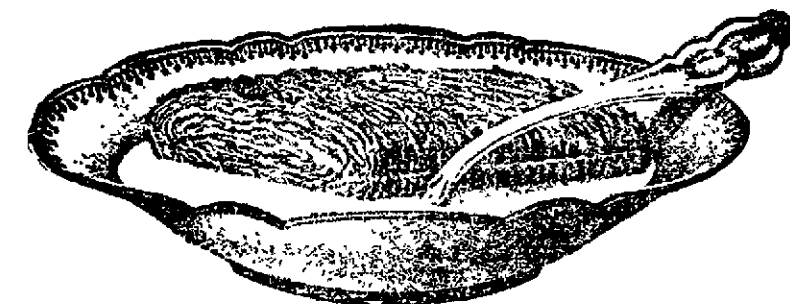

Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills or they will be mailed post-paid on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, six boxes $2.50, by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

PRIZE WINNERS IN CONTESTS AT MOOSE CARNIVAL

The Moose carnival closed Saturday night after exhibiting for a week at Eleventh and Jefferson streets. The company went from here to Zanesville where they open today for a week's engagement but will not play under the auspices of any order.

Very good order was maintained on the grounds for the week and the Moose lodge will receive a neat sum of money as their share of the receipts. Moose members assisted in taking tickets, looking after the advertising and financial affairs of the carnival. They were also active in the contests and made them popular and successful.

Miss Emily Hamilton was awarded a diamond ring for being the most popular young lady in the contest. She received over 9,000 votes and was presented the ring at the Moose hall in East Park Place Saturday evening. Miss Hamilton is one of the clerks at the Diment candy stand, corner of Third street and North Park Place.

Patrohman Edward Hurlough was awarded a Moose ring for being the most homely man in the city. The popular patrohman received nearly 10,000 votes. Mr. Hurlough does not deserve the title of "homeliest" man for he is considered the Adonis of the police department, in fact his brother officers are jealous of his good looks. He is proud of his victory and will always wear the ring in memento of the hard fought battle, as there were four other contestants.

Rain interfered for a time with the shows Saturday evening, but after it cleared away the grounds were packed. The Moose members desire to thank all their friends and the public generally for the liberal patronage accorded the carnival.

Miss Emily Hamilton, who was the successful contestant in the popularity contest at the Moose carnival, is very grateful to her many loyal friends and she is thankful to them, and also the members of the Moose Lodge for their kindness.

The Courts

Justice Scott's Court.

John Kurtz, an employee of the carnival company which exhibited in this city last week, was arrested on an affidavit subscribed to by George Faller, and was charged with assault and battery. He had his hearing before Justice F. S. Scott Monday and was fined $5 and the costs. He was also given a little friendly advice gratis by the justice, and warned that if he ever visited the city in the future he must behave himself; if he wished to keep out of the law's clutches.

The plaintiff in her petition accuses the defendant with committing adultery on divers occasions and names the correspondent, who also charges him with neglect to provide. Plaintiff asks for a divorce and alimony.

In Common Pleas.

On Monday morning the grand jurors resumed the hearing of testimony. A report will probably be made the latter part of the week.

In the case of the Fruit dispatch Co. vs. F. Lacey & Co., upon application of the defendant, the case was passed out of assignment. The defendant presented an affidavit to the court that he was unable to proceed to trial on account of the absence of a material witness, and without whose testimony he could not proceed to trial. The suit is brought to recover the purchase price of a car load of bananas.

NO GOVERNOR IN OHIO FOR MONTH WILLIS TO EXPO.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Columbus, Sept. 20.—For nearly a month Ohio will be without a governor. Lieut. Gov. Arnold announced today, that in the absence of any formal request from the governor that he act in the chief executive absence in the west he will perform the duties of governor only in emergency matters. Planning to leave for San Francisco at a week or tomorrow morning, the governor today gave no indication that he would ask anybody to perform his duties excepting his clerks. Mr. Arnold, made it understood plainly however, that he will insist upon his constitutional right to become governor whenever drastic action is demanded.

The governor and his party will be gone until October 18. In the party, in addition to the governor and Mrs. Willis, will be Adjutant General Hough, and Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Jones. Mr. Jones is secretary of the state tax commission.

CHIROPRACTORS MEET.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Cleveland, Ohio, September 26.—The state chiropractors were in convention at the Statler Hotel here today, and devoted their efforts to an attempt to create public sympathy against the Platt-Elis law, which will go into effect October 1, by charging that the anti-drugless healing bill forces barbers who use anti-septic pencils, dandruff cures and hot towels to take out $25 state licenses.

AGED WOMAN VISITS SISTER.

Mrs. Edward Dunn of North Buena Vista street, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Scott of East street, left Sunday for New York City. Mrs. Dunn goes to visit her son, Francis Dunn, who is stationed there for a short time on the battleship Utah. Mrs. Scott, who is 92 years old will visit her sister, who is older than she and whom she has not seen for a great many years.

KILLED HIS WIFE 25

YEARS AGO; FREED.
STILL LOOKS YOUNG

George Cram.

George Cram, 86, has just been freed from Sing Sing prison, where he was sent 25 years ago for killing his wife. He looks far younger than his years. He got out into the world again after 25 years behind prison walls has been a wonderful experience to him, he says.

John Stale, a foreman employed in the Pennsylvania section, between Black Run and Hanover, was brought to Newark Sunday and a $1000 bond was required. One of his right hand amputated. The man's hand was mangled while working on a trolley near Black Run. The man was brought to the City Hospital in the Bradley ambulance. Dr. H. J. Davis, Pennsylvania physician, attended him.

ABE MARTIN

There's little change in the war situation, except everybody's preparing for "Waraw." When we do strike a sweet juicy cantaloupe we're willing to forgive the past.

A lightning bolt at Laurel, Del., struck a half-grown chicken and stripped it as clean of feathers as a new-laid egg, leaving the bird none the worse for the experience, except for lack of covering.

Both Shakespeare and Cervantes died on April 23, 1616, yet ten days actually intervened between the two deaths. The explanation is that then England was still using the Julian calendar.

Herring, great quantities of which are caught in Japan each year, are used chiefly to fertilize rice fields.

MONEY RAISED FOR THE PRIZES IN SHORT TIME

Lindorf to raise a fund for prizes at the Newark Merchants' Association automobile carnival on Thursday, Sept. 30, third day of the Licking county fair, was so successful this morning that the committee decided to have not only an automobile parade on Thursday morning but a ing in the down town district.

A $25 cash prize will be given to the person who drives the best de-will be used in putting on a Charlie Chaplin stunt Friday morning.

MISS NORRIS TO STUDY CHARITIES WORK AT O. S. U.

Becoming interested in social service and public welfare work while one of the volunteer workers of the Associated Charities here last winter, Miss Nina Norris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Norris of East Newark, left today for Columbus to enter Ohio State University where she will take a course to prepare herself for further activity in that field.

Last winter Supt. Hopkins of the local Charities organization, had the assistance of more than 100 volunteer workers, some of them devoting all their time to the work. Among them was Miss Norris. She became deeply interested in the work through her connection with the Newark organization and decided to further her education along these lines to fit herself for a welfare worker. While taking the course, Miss Norris will do field and laboratory work under the Associated Charities of Columbus, specializing in institutional and social settlement work.

After a controversy lasting ten years it has been decided in France that the use of old corks in wine bottles is not detrimental to health.

FORTY FORWARD IN FOUR DAYS AT N. SIDE REVIVAL

At the North Side revival there have been forty forward in four days. Last night the new church building at the corner of Stevens and Hollander streets, was packed to its capacity, and Evangelist Irwin preached a powerful and convincing sermon on the subject, "The Conversion of a Moral Man." The tenth chapter of the Acts of the Apostles was the text for the evening, and the conversion of Cornelius was the topic of special discourse.

"Morality will not save you," declared the evangelist. "Cornelius was a devout, God-fearing, alms-giving, praying man; but he was not a saved man. An angel appeared in order to tell him that he was saved; but where to find a preacher who would tell him what to do in order to become saved—Acts 10: 6, 11:14.

The Master had said to His aptles: "Go ye, therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Son and of the Holy Father," and He never pardoned any unregenerated man or woman after that time without the employment of human agency. Hence the angel who appears to Cornelius tells him to send to Joppa for Simon Peter, who will tell him what he ought to do. Cornelius promptly does so; and Peter convinced by a trance the prompting of the Holy Spirit, and the account given by the messengers from Cornelius, goes with his escort. When he arrives at the house of Cornelius he finds that the latter has congregated his near relations and friends; and he says: "Now we are all here present before God to hear all things that are commanded thee of God."

Peter immediately begins to preach Christ as the only Savior of the world; and while he speaks the Holy Ghost falls on all them that hear it.

at this sign of God's favor vouched to the Gentiles; and Peter challenges: "Can any man forbid water that these should not be baptized as well as we." And he commanded them to be baptized in the name of Jesus.

Two things Cornelius lacked despite his morality. These were (a) belief in Jesus; (b) baptism into Christ, Cap. Gal. 3: 26, 27. "He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved," the Master had declared;
and here we find it verified.

The music of last night was of high order, a special quartet and a duet by the Crawford sisters adding much to the pleasure and profit of the occasion.

Six adults responded to the invitation at the close of the service and these with the ten forward at the morning service makes forty accessions at four invitations.

Tonight "The Great Salvation."
Special songs. Come.

Smart
New Styles
In Fall Suits

Our magnificent display of new fall suits has been the center of attraction during the past week. To the woman who is now pondering the style tendency for autumn, this exhibition of new arrivals will help to solve the problem, providing an opportunity to select a high class suit.

At this time it is interesting to note the fabrics that will be most in evidence this season. Poplin, gaberdine, serge novelty suitings, broadcloth, velvet. Favored colors are African brown, field mouse, Russian green, with a good showing of navy and black.

Many of the latest models are trimmed with fur in all popular furs, such as martin fitch opossum, Hudson seal, beaver. While others are trimmed with wide braids and buttons.

Make this the week to select your new suit. Many handsome models are here in only one or two suits of a style, and later in the season you will not have the exclusive models to select from, that are displayed at the opening of the season.

Our New Silk Petticoats

for the new suit or skirt. Our early showing contains all the new shades in plain colors or two-tone effects. Also a beautiful showing of fancy skirts in light floral designs, plain color top with wide flounces of striped marquisette, lace and chiffon flounces—all plaids—while others have a plain top with fancy flounces made of a combination of plain and fancy silks.

Laces of Rare Beauty

Are displayed in our window and also in the lace department. This season laces will form a great part of the handsome gowns and blouses, and this showing will assist you to plan new garments. Flouncings in skirt widths and the narrow widths to match, all-over laces and narrow edging in embroidered marquisettes, silk chantilly lace, Radium silk, fillets, net tops with designs embroidered in gold, silver or pastel shades.

These are shown in white, cream, Arabian and black in many designs.

Big Vote In Ruth Contest
Changes Standing Today;
Will Be Eleven Winners

On Saturday and Sunday 3564 coupons were voted in the Alhambra "Who will be Ruth" contest. Of this number 306 votes were cast for Miss Jennings, bringing her from eighth to first place.

The race is remarkably close, as there is a difference of only 297 coupons between first and sixth position.

Though daily announcement was made that nominations would close Saturday night, three nominations were offered after the time limit. These of course had to be rejected.

The complete list of nominations shows seventeen names and from this number the cast of eleven for Newark's moving picture will be selected by the readers of the Advocate and patrons of the Alhambra theatre. The young woman whose vote is highest will play the leading role of Ruth in the picture play, while the next ten highest will have prominent parts in the picture. While there will be only one "Ruth," there will be eleven winners in the contest.

The voting continues tonight, tomorrow and Wednesday. That's all. There will be no extension of time. The reader is invited to clip the coupon, printed in this edition, write upon it the name of one of the seventeen young women who have been nominated and then send or take the coupon to the Alhambra. A coupon may be obtained with each admission ticket to the Alhambra and with each copy of the Advocate. This paper tomorrow and Wednesday will contain coupons. The heavy vote cast Friday, Saturday and Sunday shows that friends of the young ladies are busy, and the changes in the standing of the candidates shows that it is impossible to pick the winner.

Best Way Known to Darken Gray Hair

Specialists have proved that the safest, most effective treatment for restoring color to gray hair is the good old Sage Tea and Sulphur mixture. Get it freshly mixed by asking for a few bottles of Sulpho-Sage. A few applications of this fine toilet preparation will bring back the rich, glossy, dark natural shade to gray, streaked or faded hair. Works so gradually and evenly that no one knows you are using it. Removes dandruff, improves hair. Druggists refund price if it fails. Clifton Chemical Co., Newark, N. J.

ROCKEFELLER ON VISIT TO COLORADO
MINING INTERESTS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Trinidad, Colo., Sept. 20.—John D. Rockefeller, Jr., arrived here today for an inspection of the properties of the Colorado Fuel and Iron company.

Mr. Rockefeller and his party probably will spend two or three weeks in Colorado.

The Colorado visit of Mr. Rockefeller as active representative of the principal owning interest of the Colorado Fuel and Iron company has been planned since early in the year. It had its inception at the New York hearings before the Federal Commission on industrial relations.

On January 27, Mr. Rockefeller was a witness before the commission. After leaving the stand he stopped to speak to "Mother" Mary Jones, a labor enthusiast, and she invited him to visit Colorado and see for himself conditions described before the commission. Other labor leaders present at the industrial relations hearing urged Rockefeller to visit the scenes of the recently ended Colorado coal miners' strike.

Wisconsin is able to send outside of the state a trainload of cheese every day in the year.
